Celebrate the INCOSE Cleveland Northern-Ohio Chapter's 10th Anniversary!

Enjoy a sit-down dinner (current, dues-paying members eat free!), cash bar, and a celebratory cake with your fellow chapter members and colleagues. We will be recognizing key chapter contributors over the years. Former members, fellow colleagues and significant others are welcome to attend.

Attendance is limited to 40 people: reserve your seat today!

Keynote Speaker: Charles Steiner/Cleveland Clinic Innovations Team:

Charles Steiner is the Director for Business, Commercial and Product Development at Cleveland Clinic Innovations. He has been developing and commercializing medical technology for 28 years in the fields of surgical navigation, minimally invasive surgery, surgical simulation, neuromodulation and healthcare information technology. He currently manages the technology development program for Cleveland Clinic Innovations a program which invests in commercially viable projects to validate their technology, de-risk future investments and generate increased value for the intellectual property holder. Additionally he is the program manager for the joint Cleveland Clinic & IBM Watson advanced cognitive computing initiative, a collaborative project with the Cleveland Clinic Lerner College of Medicine. Charles is the holder of 6 US Patents, many of which are current components of clinical devices or processes. Charles has advised several early stage medical technology companies through pre-seed, seed and later rounds of funding. Two companies Charles has advised have been acquired by strategic investors with another two rapidly approaching monetization.
