

BENEFITS TO YOU

As a Member of INCOSE

- Network with nearly 10,000 systems engineering professionals and international members in 62 countries
- Receive Insight, the INCOSE Quarterly Newsletter
- Receive Systems Engineering, the Journal of INCOSE
- Contribute to the profession through INCOSE technical committees

Forum for SE Topics & Networking

- The Chesapeake Chapter holds regular monthly meetings on topics of interest and sponsors engineering workshops, tutorials, and training.
- Presentations from local and international speakers, panels, and paper presentations provide you with opportunities to learn.
- Have a systems engineering topic you would like to present? Contact our Programs Director Mr. Gundars Osvalds, ESEP at programs@incose-cc.org.

Educational Opportunities

Chesapeake hosts tutorials on subjects of interest to systems engineers and is open to both INCOSE members and nonmembers. In 2015 the Chesapeake Chapter held tutorials on current topics of interest to the systems engineer, and more are planned for 2016.

Communication Opportunities

The Chesapeake Chapter maintains communications with its members using flyers, e-mail, and a website. You can obtain information, using the forum of your choice, and contribute in ways most convenient to you in collaborating with other systems engineers who are INCOSE members.
