Call for Sponsors

The INCOSE western regional chapters will host our seventh annual Western States Regional Conference (WSRC) Thursday through Saturday, September 11-13, at the University of Washington Bothell campus, near Seattle.

This 3-day event features keynote and technical presentations about systems engineering (SE) from thought leaders, working groups, and chapter leader meetings, panel discussions, and networking events and activities.

The WSRC provides superb opportunities to showcase your products and services. We expect on-site attendees—plus more remotely—from aerospace, defense, energy, government, agriculture, automotive, biomedical & healthcare, education, information, infrastructure, safety and security, space, and transportation. These attendees will be key decision-makers and systems engineers—the target market for your products and services.

We appreciate your help in sharing the usefulness and impact this conference brings. We expect to reach an untapped market of end users and companies who are just learning the benefits of applying systems engineering to their industries and domains.

We invite your organization to participate as a sponsor in this regional event. Your sponsorship of the WSRC will be rewarded with multiple acknowledgments and benefits, as identified on the other side of this sheet. In addition, if you will tell us your needs and preferences, we can tailor sponsor benefits to suit.
