

What benefits can I expect from the INCOSE Technical Leadership Institute?

For INCOSE Leaders

Why should I endorse a member for the Institute?

- Increase the leadership capabilities of a key INCOSE member you depend on now and will in the future
- Equip an emerging leader with the knowledge and skills required to help propel INCOSE toward its vision
- Enhance INCOSE's reputation as an international authority on systems engineering and technical leadership

For INCOSE Members

Why should I participate in the Institute?

- Gain valuable, practical leadership education and training at no cost for instruction
- Develop and participate in an international network of outstanding systems engineering technical leaders
- Prepare yourself for positions of greater leadership and responsibility in your home organization, INCOSE, and society at large

For Sponsoring Managers

Why should I sponsor an employee's participation in the Institute and support the time necessary to engage in the initial two-year experience?

- Obtain high-caliber, tuition-free experiential leadership development for an emerging leader within your organization
- Increase the impact of your organization by enhancing the leadership knowledge and skills of a key employee
- Expand your participant's perspective on technical leadership beyond the boundaries of your organization, domain, and culture
